

Sea Save Foundation Newsletter

Sea Save Foundation's "Big Blue Town" Two-Time Film Festival Finalist

Two years ago, country singer Stephanie Quayle and Sea Save Foundation director Georgienne Bradley met on a crowded airplane. They spent the duration of the flight discussing ocean conservation and unsustainable shark fishing. Stephanie was so moved by what she learned that she wanted to do all she could to help raise awareness. She leveraged her talent as a singer, songwriter, and musician and wrote a beautiful, metaphorical song called "Big Blue Town." She donated the song to Sea Save Foundation to help strengthen our educational efforts.

The song was so powerful, Sea Save leaders decided to create a music video that would augment Stephanie's vision. Reaching into the country music demographic is a huge breakthrough, explains our communications director, Tiffany Koenig: "We won't make progress if we continue to reach the same audience. This song has the potential to reach many people who are unaware of the global threats posed by overfishing." The video was completed in June 2014 and submitted to the prestigious Blue Ocean Film Festival. We are proud to announce that the video is a finalist in two categories: Best Short Film and Best Use of Music.

"LIKE" US ON FACEBOOK FOR UPDATES | READ MORE ON WEBSITE

The Sea Save Super Pod Continues to Grow

Sea Save Foundation has many exciting campaigns and projects, but we couldn't accomplish anything without the passion and commitment of our volunteers. We recently updated our team "pod page" with the glowing images and descriptions of our Sea Save family.

LEARN ABOUT OUR TEAM | JOIN US

Give 'Em The Fin Update

More than 8,200 images from around the world have been uploaded to our "Give 'Em the Fin" mosaic so far! If you have taken your "fin" picture, upload it today and encourage your friends to join the effort. Make sure your image is part of the final artwork that will be used on billboards around the world to raise awareness about sharks and stop the unsustainable finning industry.

LEARN MORE | UPLOAD YOUR IMAGE NOW

Amazon Shopper?
Help Sea Save With Every Purchase.

According to Forbes Magazine, online shopping in the United States and Canada increased 40% in 2013. Now every time you shop, Amazon will donate a percentage of your purchase amount to Sea Save Foundation. Click here: AmazonSmile, you will automatically be registered. Be sure to bookmark the page for future consumer experiences. Help ocean conservation, shop with ease, and have a smaller carbon footprint when you make your purchases online!

READ MORE ON FACEBOOK | OTHER WAYS TO HELP ON WEBSITE

"Week in Review" Synopsis of Ocean Science & Conservation News

Squeezed for time? Keep an eye out for our “Week In Review” to stay on top of ocean news. Every day, something is happening in the world of marine conservation: nations pass legislation, corporations make policy changes, nature preserves are created, and innovations make it easier to protect vulnerable species. Meanwhile, many species are still dwindling, and their status is measured daily. You’ll find it all in our “Week In Review,” which is posted every Friday.

"LIKE" TO RECEIVE WEEKLY REVIEWS ON FACEBOOK | BLOG

Click to view this email in a browser

If you no longer wish to receive these emails, please reply to this message with "Unsubscribe" in the subject line or simply click on the following link: Unsubscribe

Click here to forward this email to a friend

Sea Save Foundation
22837 Pacific Coast Highway
#110
Malibu, California 90265
US

Read the VerticalResponse marketing policy.

